I have tried setting the response header as a function in my service however, when I test it, I am getting an empty JSON object in the callback function for the status code. This is my Angular service: myApp.factory('workflowService', ['$http', function($http){ var endpointBase = config['baseUri']; var urlBase = endpointBase + '/api/workflow/getWorkflow'; return { getWorkflowData: function(appld, workflowId){ return $http.get(urlBase, {params : {appld : appld, workflowId : workflowId}}); } }]}) This is my callback function in the Angular controller: myApp.controller('workflowController', ['$scope', 'workflowService', function($scope, workflowService){ workflowService.getWorkflowData(appld, workflowId).then(function(response){ $scope.workflow = JSON.parse(response.data); }, function(response){ alert("Error occured while retrieving workflow data!"); }); }]); This is the error I am getting in my client: angular.min.js:125 SyntaxError: Unexpected token }

What can I do when I put up the TV and come to push it, and it pulls into the wall instead? After a little bit of testing, it seems that disabling the "Allow Lookaround" and "How it Moves" toggle switches fixed the issue. This thread no longer contains any illegal content and it has been removed. It is unlikely that it will happen as the MD5 Checksums match the ones of our official server (currently there is a problem with our official servers). Some time ago we found out that someone uploaded our mod "UFO:Battleground" without our permission. When the AlienAnimations mod author found out, he wanted to release his own, and called it AlienAnimations Mod 4. You can download it from This mod is basically the same as UFO: Battleground, but has the following added features. Since then, this mod has been online and active for many many months. I'm not sure if there's any mod that would be able to beat it in terms of features. Also, You might know us from This mod, and the free train station we released a few days ago. In all honesty, it's a pretty big undertaking to make something like this, and if I ever get tired of this project, I'm probably going to close it down since it won't take much time to make something just like this. For reference, the amount of work and time taken to make this mod is somewhere in the range of 2-3,000 man-hours, and I expect to be finishing it up in the time range of 6-8 months. The mod consists of: Modder's Official Website AlienAnimations Mod 4 - Modder's Official Website Right now, I only have 6 of the 7 new weapons, one of the new sets of AI-mode upgradeables, and an extra building section. Everything else is still a work in progress. I'm sure there are still a lot of things that I've forgotten to add. Future plans for this mod are to add: New AlienAnimations Mod 4 Weapon Sets New AI-mode Upgradeables More buildings for whatever buildings I add in the current version
