Free Play mode is also used as the tutorial for new players, such as the goalkeeper to get used to the way movements are controlled. Visual Free Play: As more fans watch games via Internet TV services like ITV Go, the FIFA TV experience is enhanced with an in-game overlay allowing fans to watch the game and interact with players through a large, full-screen view of the pitch. Tackling: Player interactions with the ball can cause the ball to ricochet off the player, be deflected or bounce off the player. New Ball Flips: Players can manipulate the ball on the field by kicking or throwing it, utilizing a variety of impressive ball juggling techniques, and occasionally even passing the ball to other players. Vintage Visuals: Players and visual effects reflect a more authentic, nostalgic tone of a game in 1987.
