the purported class of claims against Landry. The fact that the alleged class members were not injured by Landry or the other defendants does not require dismissal of the claims against these defendants. 13 We are also unpersuaded by the judgment of dismissal entered by the district court. The agreement between R & A Coal and Bender was entered into in return for the financial assistance of Bender in procuring the lease. As this court has explained: 14 "[T]he fact that a guarantor desires to protect himself or his surety from the consequences of a debtor's default does not affect the legal relations which exist between the debtor and his creditor." Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation v. Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association, 885 F.2d 559, 565 (9th Cir.1989). "The right of the creditor to require payment by the guarantor is not in any way increased or impaired by the fact that the guarantor desires to protect his own interest rather than simply to stand by and pay the debt if the debtor fails to perform." Id. at 566 (quoting Stoneman v. United States, 113 F.2d 70, 74 (5th Cir.1940)). Thus, the fact that the debt was contracted in return for Bender's funding, see Citizens Savings and Loan Association v. Fischer, 15 Ariz.App. 492, 487 P.2d 436 (1971) (guarantee contract is an entire contract between the debtor and the creditor, and is subject to the same terms and conditions as the underlying contract), does not affect the obligation of the guarantor to pay the underlying obligation, regardless of its motivation. 15 It is clear from the facts, as alleged by the plaintiff, that R & A Coal expressly undertook to guarantee the debts owed by Bender and Landry to the plaintiff. Under Arizona law, a "guaranty is to be construed as a contract, just as if the parties had set forth their agreement in the language of a contract."

A: If you want to know what, in fact, you have installed, open a command line prompt and type: gcc --version It is a version number of the compiler, sometimes preceded by "gcc-". The "glu" binary is an implementation of OpenGL, the thing that allows you to say things like glClearColor(1.0, 1.0, 1.0, 1.0), glClearDepth(1.0), glClear(glClearColor(1.0, 1.0, 1.0, 1.0), glClearDepth(1.0)) for example. There is a lot of confusion between those two, because they are often packaged together and there are no guarantees that the binaries you have actually contain the version of OpenGL that you thought they did. So when you say that you have an OpenGL version, say you are correct, you have been tricked. If you don't have a compiler, you will need to install one, Windows comes with Visual Studio, and Apple has XCode or gcc installed on OS X. The present invention relates to a wide-angle zone plate for ion milling, especially, a zone plate useful for ion milling with a milling machine to prepare a substrate with a very small feature such as a device hole and a distribution groove for micro optical elements and the like. With a conventional ion milling machine, a parallel narrow-angle beam of an ion beam with a narrow dispersion is applied to a substrate, and a narrow and deep 6d1f23a050
