. What type of file is it? It is a.txt file. How to open this file? Open it with your favorite text editor and save it in your Desktop folder. How to repair it? As you would normally fix a broken file, you would open the text editor program that you used earlier. Now you need to edit the existing content, there are 2 ways you can do this. Open the file in Notepad and save it to your Desktop. Use Search Tool > Find tool and type in your own text, so you can find if the file contains something bad. Now it's up to you to decide, what to do next. You can fix the existing content or you can ask us here on how you can remove the corrupted content so you can save your file. Here's a list of text editors that are available for your PC, smartphone and tablets: WindowsÂ . MacÂ . AndroidÂ . iOSÂ . MacÂ . What is the best application to open and edit a Txt file? A: I suggest you use a program called Rekordbox. I have not used Rekordbox myself but it does seem to be very useful for managing a large collection of music, movies and pictures. There is no need to compile the Rekordbox website, it is fully compatible with Windows 7, 8 and 8.1. It allows you to use the Google Drive cloud storage system, so you can simply add files to it and they will sync with any computer you happen to be working on. You can create playlists and organize your files into folders. And it has the innovative Scanner option which can find duplicate files and can create playlists to re-order your files.

Q:
Can't kill process in R v3.2.0 I am trying to kill a process created by the glmnet package. When I get the answer I want, I would like to start another process which is the code that runs the next step (a t-test). But when I try to kill the first one I get the following error: > p1 p1() p2
